BICENTENNIAL REGISTER/MASTER CALENDAR
INPUT FORM INSTRUCTIONS AND GLOSSARY

BICENTENNIAL INFORMATION NETWORK

The Bicentennial Information Network (BINET) is the primary coordinative service of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration. It serves to acquire, catalog and disseminate information on Bicentennial activities being planned across the Nation. This form is the means of gathering the information. Program sponsors and coordinative organizations should complete forms for each distinct Bicentennial project and its associated events and submit it to ARBA, so that the project may have the widest possible exposure at state, national and international levels.

The form should be submitted through your State Bicentennial organization for its knowledge and approval, and submission to BINET. If this is not practical, please send them a courtesy copy.

Immediately upon entry into BINET the sponsor organization and the State Bicentennial Organization concerned will be sent a copy of the information entered into BINET for the particular project. This will be for information and editing purposes, if necessary. All subsequent correspondence should reference the project number assigned by ARBA.

WHILE BICENTENNIAL ACTIVITIES CATALOGED IN BINET MAY HAVE BEEN RECOGNIZED BY ARBA OR BY LOCAL OR STATE BICENTENNIAL ORGANIZATIONS, INCLUSION OF THE INFORMATION DOES NOT IMPLY OFFICIAL RECOGNITION.

Any changes or additions to any of the information concerning a project should be promptly submitted to BINET, 736 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20276. Please use the BINET assigned Project Number as the main identifier when requesting any change in reported information.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INPUT FORM

The form includes data for the project and the master calendar of events. Items 1 through 21 must be filled out completely for each project. Item 24 should be filled out for each event associated with the project.

Please follow instructions exactly. This will allow the information to be keypunched directly from the form. In particular, use only pencil. The use of ink or typewriter will delay processing. Carefully follow the "tic-marks" when writing in verbal and descriptive information to insure legibility and correct use of the space provided.

In filling out the descriptive portions, standard or easily recognizable abbreviations are not only acceptable but strongly encouraged so as to include as much information as possible. Include key words which give major project attributes. Do not exceed the number of spaces given on the form for such items.

A Glossary is provided, giving full definitions for each item on the form, and each category within the items.

In the project data portion of the form, several subject areas and methods of presentation may be selected. In the event data portion, multiple events may be reported. If one event has a subject area and/or method of presentation which is different from other events, make sure that the appropriate subjects and methods are indicated in the project data portion of the form, and that the short description for each separate event clearly indicates its particular subject and method of presentation.

GLOSSARY OF INPUT FORM TERMS

The following is an explanation and definition of the items and terms (categories), and how they are used on the BINET Project Input Form. Following the definitions of Project and Event, they are given in order of appearance on the form.

PROJECT – A significant local, State, regional, national or international effort or program which results in a particular Bicentennial activity. A project may or may not have site and time-oriented events associated with it. For instance, a project such as the writing of a book might not have events. Projects such as preparation of an exhibit will have one or more discrete events.

EVENT – A significant international, national, regional, state or local Bicentennial event that is both site and time oriented, and is the result of a Bicentennial project as defined above. Event information in BINET includes separate (perhaps multiple) entries.

Another example of the difference between a project and an event would be the project activity of composing a Bicentennial symphony. The associated event would be the performance of the symphony at a discrete location on a specific date. Remember that more than one event may be connected with a single project. The majority of events will have both a start and stop date.

Item 1. PROJECT TITLE – Descriptive, brief title (using key words where possible) which best illustrates the purpose and/or the theme of the overall project and its associated events. Easily recognizable abbreviations should be used.

Item 2. PROJECT DESCRIPTION – A succinct description of the overall project, giving the highlights of the activity. Sentences, phrases, and abbreviations may be used. Proper hyphenation of words carried over to the next line is necessary.

Item 3. THEMATIC PROGRAM AREA – Use the following guidelines in deciding which thematic program area most closely fits the project's major thrust.

Heritage '76 – All Americans have the opportunity to experience the heritage and values of this Nation (past).

Festival USA – Citizens of all countries have access to participate in festive and cultural events and projects honoring America's 200th anniversary commemoration (present).

Horizons '76 – Americans establishing or achieving new goals during the Bicentennial Era (future).

Item 4. GEOGRAPHIC SCOPE – One of 5 area categories (local, statewide, regional, national and international) depecting the population affected by, or audience interested in, the project and associated events. Regional" means beyond State boundaries, usually involving 3 or more States.

Item 5. DATE EMPHASIS – The year or years from 1973 through or after 1977, during which a project and its associated events will have their main emphasis.

Item 6. SUBJECT – Identifies and categorize the main subject area(s) to which the project and its associated event(s) are most closely oriented. Up to five applicable Subject categories may be selected. In filling out the form, if there is more than one Subject, number the priority of importance of the Subject from one to five. If multiple events have different Subjects, check the appropriate Item 6 entries and use the Subject name in the Event Title/Description, Item 24-A. Remember that this Subject classification relates to topic, whereas Item 7, Method of Presentation, deals with the final product(s) of the project or the form in which events appear.

01 Agriculture: Pertains to the practice and science of farming, including farm community life and the rural environment.

02 Archaeology: Pertains to the scientific study of life, structures, and cultures, as by excavation methods. Includes above-ground archaeological efforts.

03 Architecture: The science, profession, or art of designing and constructing buildings, and/or the research of architectural subjects.

21 History, General: Projects and events concerning acts and incidents significant in history, other than those connected with the American Revolution, which have affected the development of the United States.

22 Hospitality/Exchange: Activities involving personal visits between people of different communities, organizations, countries, etc. Includes the exchange of visitors, and cultural and other exchanges involving people.

23 Housing: Improvement of the quality of housing and the surrounding environment.

24 Human Values and Understanding: Projects and events whose primary objective is to foster and enhance understanding and relationships among people. An example is the Multi-Cultural Institute, whose program stimulates academic learning while encouraging individual and group expressions of multiple cultural, ethnic and religious values, leading to a better understanding of one's self and others.

25 Labor: Pertaining to projects and events relating to wage earning workers.

26 Legal: Activities connected with the legal profession, jurisprudence, or laws of the United States, at any level of government.

27 Leisure and Recreation: Involving activities which contribute to the general well-being, happiness, and satisfaction of people. Note that athletics, crafts and travel are separate Subjects (categories 04, 11, and 44).

28 Literature: Projects and events associated with writings in prose or verse.

29 Maritime Affairs: Pertaining to activities characteristic of ships, the oceans, and inland waterways.

30 Military Affairs: Involving activities characteristic of the armed forces, both present and historical.

31 Music, Classical: Projects involving the subject of music which conforms to certain established standards, complexity, and musical literacy, such as symphonies, concertos, or sonatas. Note that General Music and Opera are separate Subjects (categories 32 and 33).

32 Music, General: Projects involving the subject of various forms of music, such as popular, patriotic, rock, marches, etc., excluding classical, and opera. Music of the folk, ethnic or minority tradition, such as jazz, should be classified both here and category 15.

33 Music, Opera: Pertains to the subject of opera, a musical art form which has all or most of its text set to music, is usually accompanied by orchestra, and combines the arts of music and drama.

34 Painting: Projects involving the creation, history, exhibition, appreciation, etc., of painting. Note that graphic arts is a separate Subject (category 17).

35 Philosophy: Activities involving investigation of the principles underlying thought, conduct, knowledge, and the nature of the universe.

36 Photography: Subjects pertaining to or involving photography and photographic processes including appreciation and history.

37 Preservation/Restoration: Refurbishment and maintenance of old structures, documents, and memorabilia, or restoring or reconstructing them to their former condition. May also include representation of the original structure or form.

38 Religion: Activities relating to a system of beliefs, ethical values, and practices, such as Judaism or Christianity.

39 Science and Technology: Projects and events concerning the systematized gathering of knowledge about nature and the physical world and/or the application of this knowledge.

40 Social and Behavioral Sciences: Activities relating to systematic studies of human behavior and/or the structure and happenings in human society. Includes the application of knowledge from such studies.

41 Sculpture: Activities involving the creation, history, exhibition, and appreciation of sculpture.

42 Theater: Activities whose Subject involves the study, creation, history or production of plays, musical comedies, puppet shows, and other forms of dramatic expression (excluding Opera—see category 33).

43 Transportation: Activities which pertain to the various methods of movement of people and materiel for other than recreational purposes (see category 44). Excludes maritime transportation, category 29.

44 Travel/Information Services: Activities which include accommodations, package tours, language translation facilities, guide books, tourist guides and maps; or other associated services which assist or expedite travel.

Item 7. METHOD OF PRESENTATION – Classifies the method or way the project and its associated event(s) are to be presented, the form the project and its events will take, or the final end product of a project. Up to five applicable Method categories may be selected. In filling out the form, if there is more than one Method of Presentation, number the priority of importance of the methods of presentation from one(1) to five(5). If multiple events use different methods, check the appropriate Item 7 entries and use the Method name in the Event Title/Description, Item 24 A.

01 Award/Scholarship: Tangible recognition of achievement, such as certificates, medals, flags, scholarships, fellowships, study grants, etc.

02 Book/Guide/Other Publication: Printed material for information, pleasure, or the direction of activities. Includes pamphlets, maps and calendars.

03 Building/Facility/Monument: Includes buildings, statues, forts, public-use facilities such as sports arenas and demonstration farms, commemorative construction, new town development and improvement, and rehabilitation and renewal projects involving construction and similar activities. Historic markers should be classified under No. 31.

04 Ceremony/Convocation: A formal gathering for a special occasion.

05 Coins: Self-explanatory. See category 17 for medals.

06 Commemoration: A celebaration in honor of a person or an event, usually associated with some historical event or activity.

25 Recording: The processing of speech and/or music activities onto discs or magnetic tape.

26 Research: Careful and systematic study or investigation in some field of knowledge to discover or establish facts or principles. Use this category if the research project does not lead to the preparation of a commonly-available final publication or product (e.g. book). Accumulation of Oral History is one example of Research.

27 Seminar/Symposium: A conference arranged for the discussion of a particular subject or closely allied subjects, usually of a scholarly or professional nature.

28 Stamps: Self-explanatory. Includes all similar philatelic material (e.g. first day covers).

29 Survey: The gathering of information through interviews, questionnaires, or observation, analyzing it, and presenting it in a systematic format. If results are published, use other appropriate category.

30 Television: The presentation of activities, information, knowledge or entertainment by television. If a film or videotape is produced specifically for television, use this category.

31 Tours/Trails/Markers: Activities concerning sightseeing, the use, creation, or restoration of trails, or their marking to facilitate use. Includes historical markers, but use Category 03 for Monuments.

98 Not Applicable: None of the above methods applies, or there is no discrete method of presentation for the project.

Item 8. STATUS – Conceptual—Those projects which appear to be suitable but require further feasibility analysis.

Planning—Those projects which are suitable and feasible and for which a commitment of resources has usually been made.

Implementation—Those projects for which definitive plans have been developed and which are likely to be accomplished.

Operational—Those projects which are available for the intended audience.

Item 9. GENERAL AUDIENCE – Audience size estimates should be provided only when accurate estimates are feasible. Consider only the 1973–1977 time frame.

Item 10. SPECIAL EMPHASIS – This item is to identify those particular groups to or about which the project will have particular stress, impact, or relevance in one or more of several types of groups or areas. This item describes emphasis in the project, and does not necessarily characterize the audience. In other words, a given project may have "general" emphasis, but have special appeal, interest or content relating to one or more of the categories. Up to three applicable Emphasis categories may be selected. If more than one is used, give the priority of importance by indicating in numbers from one(1) to three(3). For instance, if the project contains material relating to the American Indian, but is of general interest to all, put "1" by "General" and "2" by "Native American."

The categories as shown under Item 10 on the form should be self-explanatory; but note that "Native American" refers to American Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts; and that ethnicities not listed should be represented by using category 2.

Item 11. PROJECT LOCATION – The city and State (or city and foreign country) in which the project is to be located, or the primary or focal city if a larger area is involved. If a project location is unknown, fill in the sponsor organization location. For conformity in the spelling of the city locations, use the spelling given in the U.S. Postal Service's National Zip Code Directory. Reference page vii of this volume for standard two-letter state codes. Also on pages vii through xii of this publication are abbreviations for postal locations which are longer than 13 characters and spaces. Please use these when applicable.

Item 12. SPONSOR CATEGORY – Used to describe the primary field of interest of the major or principal sponsoring organization.

Item 13. TITLE OF SPONSORING ORGANIZATION – The formal or incorporated name of the principal sponsoring organization. This organization should be that body which will most likely continue to have the best and most up-to-date information about the project and its associated events. For instance, if a business funded a project, but it is to be carried out by a city Bicentennial organization, the latter should be given as the sponsoring organization.

Items 14–18. STREET ADDRESS, CITY, STATE, ZIP CODE, PHONE NUMBER – These items must all be filled in for the principal sponsoring organization given in Item 13.

Item 19. SPONSOR CONTACT – That person in the sponsor organization named in Item 13, whom one should contact to find out more information about the project and its associated events.

Item 20. FUNDING INFORMATION – Used for internal ARBA statistical purposes only and will be aggregated so that no individual sponsor, organization, or group thereof of funding sources or donors can be identified. The information will not be released for public use. It is needed for archival purposes and for providing cost estimates for the total Bicentennial.

These funds do not necessarily have to be actual dollars committed, but can be interpretations, in dollar value, of commitments of volunteer services, equipment donated or loaned, or other such tangible contributions to the Bicentennial commemoration for this particular project or event.

Item 21. ENTRY DATE – The date on which the BINET Project Input Form was completed and submitted to the ARBA. Must be filled in using all numbers, i.e., 03/09/75.

Items 22 and 23. FOR BINET USE ONLY.

Item 24. EVENTS – Given the general definition of events given at the beginning of this Glossary, study the detailed definitions below. Do not lump separate, discrete occurrences under one event entry. Different dates or locations require separate entries for each.

Fill out, as completely as possible, the time(s) and location(s) where the event will take place. If this information should change after original submission, forward to BINET such changes as soon as they become known, so that BINET may remain current. Use the BINET assigned project number as the main identifier of the project when reporting any changes to the event listed in Item 24.

A. Brief Event Description – A title or description which succinctly but completely describes one event.

B. City – The location at which one event will occur.

C. State – The standard two-letter abbreviation of the State in which the city is located.

D. Foreign Country – Fill in the name of the foreign country, if the event city is not in the U.S.

E. Congressional District – Congressional district in which the event occurs. Use the two-digit number, such as "04." If more than one district is involved use "88."

F. Start Date – Date on which the event will actually appear or commence. Must be filled in. Use numbers only, i.e., 07/04/74.

G. Stop Date – Date on which event will end. Will normally be filled in as in "Start Date," except for ongoing activities (events with an indeterminate stop date).

H. BINET Use Only – Used for assigning the BINET event sequence number.
